Helen Keller could not hear or see, but Anne helped raise her for the early part of her life. This book is mainly when she is in school, though it does refer to her childhood ages in letters and by memory. Over all this was a good book, but for me it was a little hard to get through some parts of the book.

(The small house on the right is where Helen Keller was born.) The Keller homestead, where the family lived, was a few steps from our little rose-bower. It was called "Ivy Green" because the house and the surrounding trees and fences were covered with beautiful English ivy. Its old-fashioned garden was the paradise of my childhood.

The Story of My Life.

Helen Keller would not be bound by conditions. Rendered deaf and blind at 19 months by scarlet fever, she learned to read (in several languages) and even speak, eventually graduating with honors from Radcliffe College in 1904, where as a student she wrote The Story of My Life.
